Several edits for Ch 4, some significant. In particular I found that Table 4-1 was in English units so I changed it to metric, and I clarified our uses of 10.8 Btonnes vs 6.5 Btons in the tables and analysis. See footnotes in tables 4-1 and 4-3.

Hi all,

You are about to receive a series of emails from me, with the latest versions of all chapters except Chapter 1 (still under development). I will also post these on Quickr tomorrow morning. I know some of you still have edits you'd like to make to these versions, and we'll make sure those get incorporated into the next round, but I wanted to get these out sooner rather than later.

A few general notes, as you start carefully reading the tome:

- Please use these chapter versions with track changes as you read through and comment.
- Ignore formatting issues (e.g., headers, footers, table formatting, etc.) – particularly where it's clear something hasn't been formatted yet.
- Throughout the chapters, you'll find outstanding comments – please address any of these that you're able to, so we can get these issues resolved.

- Be sure to comment on all figures and maps.
- For Chapter 7, you'll need both the Word text and the Excel spreadsheet files (excel file contains large tables).
- Please get comments on Chaps 2-6 in by this Friday (we'll be turning these chapters over the management first, followed by Chaps 7-14 a week later).

That's it for now – happy reading!
